The Hermitage Museum, founded in 1764 by Empress Catherine II, is considered one of the largest and most prestigious art museums in the world, housing a unique collection. Initially established as Catherine's private art collection, the museum grew over time through purchases and donations made during the imperial era and was opened to the public in 1852. The museum consists of a total of six historical buildings, including the Winter Palace, which dazzles with its baroque architecture. These buildings not only host artworks but also represent the glorious past of the Russian Empire. The seizure of the Winter Palace during the Bolshevik Revolution in 1917 is one of the most iconic moments in Russian history. The Hermitage collection includes works by masters of world art such as Leonardo da Vinci, Rembrandt, Michelangelo, Raphael, Rubens, Van Gogh, Monet, and Picasso. Additionally, archaeological artifacts from ancient Egypt, Greece, and Rome also attract great interest. With over 3 million works, the Hermitage is not just a museum but also a cultural temple where art and history intertwine. It presents the grandeur of the past and humanity's artistic heritage to every visitor. The tour will continue with the Peter and Paul Fortress, the first structure built by Peter in St. Petersburg in the 1700s, located on the Neva River.
